

Spare Parts, Refurbishments & Repairs

Locker offer a complete range of spare parts & refurbishment options for our machines

We offer a full range of spare parts for our machines – with legacy data of SFH machines going back to the 1950's. We also offer an inspection and refurbishment option for used components and machines. Finally, Locker Wright Limited actively look to procure defunct machines and components for refurbishment and resales.

Machine Refurbishment

This SFH36 feeder unit was originally supplied in 1986. Upon receipt, Locker fully disassembled the feeder and inspected the castings for any signs of cracking, prior to shot blasting, re-painting and rebuilding the unit with new internal components. The completed power unit was then mated to a brand new pan, complete with stainless steel liners (to the original design), fully tested & supplied back to the client in 'as new' condition – ready for another 30+ years' service!

Spare Parts and Components

Locker hold stock of a large quantity of spare components for existing machines, inc power unit castings, centre clamps, vibrating bars & suspension components.

We still provide spare parts for machines that, in some cases, are 50+ years old and even spare parts not available off the shelf can usually be traced and re-manufactured utilizing our extensive records.
